Cary Photographic Artists

Cary Photographic Artists, founded in 2007 by Bobbi Hopp, is the Triangle's only group whose mission it is to develop and enhance the area of photographic art.

With a goal of educating and sharing photographic skill and technology, this club now has over 180 members dedicated to promoting all levels of photographic knowledge and artistic expression.

An integral part of Cary's cultural arts environment, CPA strives to bring to this area another facet of the visual arts through open meetings, education programs at all skill levels and exhibitions of some of the best photography in the Triangle.

Stacy Bloom-Rexrode

stacybloomrexrode.com/

Stacy has followed a variety of paths in pursuit of her artistic career; graphic designer, art historian, gallery director, design/build general contractor. She now blends her talents as multi-talented, multi media artist and Curator of Exhibition and Collections for the City of Raleigh.

Stacy is an artist who is self-described as determined, compassionate, and feminist. She uses a variety of artistic media to persuade the viewer to consider the underrepresented, discarded, disregarded, and domestic. Many of her works involve participatory installations such as found in "TAG! You're it!". Others use materials our society often discards to depict the contrast between our commonplace items and services and how we unknowingly hand them down as heirlooms to future generations.
